

The Baton Rouge Irish Club will be presenting the Irish play The Weir by Conor McPherson

The Weir is set in a small Irish pub in present-day Ireland. Drinking and storytelling, two common Irish pastimes, are featured, as various characters tell eerie, ghostly stories to impress the new woman in the area, Valerie. Valerie tells a supernatural story of her own, which rivals or surpasses the men's stories. Could all of these stories be real? That is for the audience to decide. The Weir is an award-winning play, as it won the Lawrence Olivier BBC Award in 1999 for Best New Play of 1997-98.

Thursday, September 24, Saturday, September 26,
Friday, October 2, and Saturday October 3

Cafe American Restaurant, 7521 Jefferson Highway, Baton Rouge

Performances will begin at 7:30 PM

$10 for Advance Tickets, $15 at the Door

Tickets will be on sale at The Elizabethan Gallery @ 680 Jefferson Hwy. 225-924-6437.

The cast includes: Jack...Dave Besse Jim...Joshua Phillips

Finbar...Donald Trahan Brendan...John Zachary Valerie...Nancy Litton

For those who want to eat at the restaurant before one of the shows, food and drink can be purchased.

www.bririshclub.com

